Further details

Heavy showers and thunderstorms have developed during Thursday afternoon across parts of Scotland and northern England but have now subsided over northern England and parts of southwest Scotland.

Whilst many areas will miss the heaviest rain, heavy showers and thunderstorms over eastern and northern Scotland will be fairly slow-moving with the potential for 20-30 mm of rain in an hour and 40-50 mm in 2-3 hours. Showers and thunderstorms will gradually die out during Thursday evening.

Reason for update

Showers have now subsided over northern England and parts of southern Scotland and so the southern and western edges of the warning have been reduced

Very low likelihood of medium impacts
